THE CANADIAN STEEL SPECIALTY CO. OF GRIMSBY

This is the Firm to Whom the Voters of Grimsby Are Asked to Vote a Loan of $10,000 to Establish a Factory Here.

A DESIRABLE INDUSTRY

The Firm Will Employ Twenty-five Hands at the Start and May Double This Number in Two Years.

The above is the official name of the company which is applying to Grimsby for a loan of ten thousand dollars, in order that they may purchase a site and buildings and move their plant and machinery to town.

It is just possible that a great many of the rat payers of the Village of Grimsby have not given the by-law, which is to be voted on next Monday, very much consideration and the chances are that a few have given it no consideration what ever.

We think that it would be a good plan for every rate payer to read the by-law over carefully and also read the agreement which is published in the Independent this week.

This company is now doing a splendid business in the Town of Gravenhurst, but they desire to move from that town for several reasons. One of them is that they wish to get nearer the source of supply of the raw material, which is all steel.

At present they have to pay the freight on the raw material from Hamilton and Toronto, to Gravenhurst, and as soon as the goods are manufactured, they have to pay the freight back again to Toronto and Hamilton and surrounding towns, on a large proportion of their business, as the amount of goods which they ship from Gravenhurst north is very light compared with what they ship south.

The change to Grimsby will mean very much reduced rates on the raw material and much better rates and much better shipping facilities on the manufactured goods.

Grimsby is a very much better shipping point than Gravenhurst, on account of the fact that it has the G. T. R., the C. P. R. and will in the near future have the C. N. R.

Besides shipments by rail the company could ship large amounts of their goods by boat to Toronto and all towns and cities on the lakes, as far as Montreal and Quebec in the summer time, and secure a lower rate than they could by rail.

The class of goods manufactured by the Canadian Steel Specialty Co. are such as are sold in large quantities in such cities as Toronto, Kingston and Montreal, and these cities can be reached by boat, during the summer time, and on ac-

Facts and Fancies

By Frank Fairborn

The Naval Bill passed its third reading in the House of Commons on Thursday night of last week and it might just as well have been passed three months ago.

* * * * * *

The three months, or in fact the five months' debate that has taken place on this Bill, has not brought out one single new idea, nor one single new reason why the Bill should not have been passed within a few days of its introduction.

* * * * * *

There has been no Bill before the House in several years that has revealed so many hypocrits, as the present discussion on the Naval Bill. For instance, the Editor of the Globe who was a delegate to the Peace Conference last year, and who had the honor of being the special envoy to convey President Taft's message of peace to the Conference, has been personally, and in his writings fighting during the past five months for the establishing of a Canadian Navy to continue war, on the face of the earth.

* * * * * *

That is, the editor of the Globe was waltzing around with the Bible in one hand and a bowie knife in the other.

* * * * * *

There is nothing that produces hypocrits like a good political fight.

* * * * * *

A year ago the editor of the Globe and many of his followers were yelling for the passage of a Closure Bill, and this year the editor and many of his followers were screaming with rage because a Closure Bill was passed—case number one of hypocrisy.

* * * * * *

A year ago, the editor of The Globe was crying down militarism and denouncing war in all its forms. This year the editor of The Globe is howling for the establishment of a permanent Canadian navy, so that Canadian boys and Canadian ships can go out and deal death and destruction to hundreds and thousands of men who might meet them on the high seas—case number two of hypocrisy.

* * * * * *

If there ever was a time that Canada should hold her hand on the building of a Canadian navy, it is at the present time, when there is a growing feeling all over the world that the nations have gone crazy in arming and building armament.

* * * * * *

The darkest hour is always just before the dawn, and I believe that the tremendous preparations for war which have been going on during the past few years are the darkest hours before the dawn of peace.

* * * * * *

When nations follow such foolish courses as Germany is following at present, which course causes England and other nations to arm to the teeth, in order to be ready for the clash, sound thinking men will get their brains to work and easily reason that the continual raising of standing armies and the continual building of navies, has about reached the climax. Further pursuit of such tactics, cannot but be suicidal to national health, happiness and prosperity.

* * * * * *

I think that the proper stand for a Canadian minister of the Gospel like the editor of The Globe to take on the Naval Bill, would be to support the naval contributions to the British navy, in order that the navy's supremacy might be maintained with the hope that within the next few years, better judgement would prevail and a peace conference to settle by arbitration all the difficulties between nations, would be established, and that armies and navies might again be reduced to normal or below normal conditions, or be entirely done away with.

* * * * * *

Instead of taking this reasonable stand, the editor of The Globe has taken the stand, that Canada should plunge into the establishing of a shipyards, and equipments for the building of battleships and establishing a navy and manning it, with the object of keeping up the war game, which should be condemned rather than encouraged.

* * * * * *

I am slowly but steadily coming to the conclusion that members of Parliament and in fact, nearly everybody, do not actually mean what they say when they are putting forward arguments on any subject.

* * * * * *

For instance, it cannot be possible that men who have been decrying the military spirit for years, can really mean what they say when they get up now and talk for and write for the establishment of a Canadian navy.

THE WHITING CO.'S NURSERY STOCK

From the Fruit Grower and Farmer

Mr. Whiting, of the Whiting Nursery Company, of Geneva, N.Y., and Boston, Mass., has been in the Niagara district, Province of Ontario, for the past week or two, delivering nursery stock, for which he took orders last summer.

It will be remembered that when Mr. Whiting was operating in this district last year, that the Grimsby Independent and the Fruit Grower and Farmer gave him a considerable amount of publicity, and advised the fruit growers not to give him orders for trees at the excessive prices which he was asking.

Mr. Whiting was taking orders for varieties of plums, of the Japanese variety. These plums he represented as being of a very superior kind, and he induced a very great many people to give him orders, at the ridiculous price of eighty-five and eighty-seven cents a piece.

Of course nursey stock agents attract very little attention in the Niagara District, as there are a number of them working, almost the year round, and giving orders for nursery stock is such an ordinary affair that a man could take orders, even at a ridiculous price, for a considerable time without the general public becoming acquainted with the fact, as the general farmer, after he has given an order to an agent, either for nursery stock or anything else, simply takes a chew of tobacco, goes to work and forgets all about the transaction.

The result of this general indifference amongst the people, was that Mr. Whiting succeeded in working from the Niagara River on the East, almost to Grimsby on the West, before any particular attention was drawn to his presence in in the country. However, the matter was finally brought to the attention of the editor of the Fruit Grower and Farmer and the Grimsby Independent, by Mr. F. G. H. Pattison, of Winona, and soon afterwards by Mr. W. C. Dawe, also of Winona.

At that time Mr. Whiting was operating in the locality of Grimsby Beach. The editor of the Fruit Grower and Farmer and the Grimsby Independent telephoned around to the fruit growers who had given orders, and finding that Mr. Whiting was charging the extravagant price of eighty-seven cents for plum trees

ENTHUSIASTIC FOR A POULTRY SHOW

A special meeting of the Grimsby Poultry Association was held in Wadell's Hall, on Monday, May 19, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of considering the question of a poultry show.

There was an attendance of about twenty poultrymen.

In the absence of the president Mr. Robert H. Kemp was appointed to the chair.

After the meeting was opened, Mr Henry Strome reported that he had attended the meeting of directors of the Beamsville Poultry Association on the previous Tuesday evening and discussed the matter of poultry shows with them. He reports that the Beamsville association would be pleased to welcome the Grimsby association into the show circuit and they would be quite willing for the Grimsby association to fix their dates either before the Beamsville show or following it.

The question of holding a poultry show in Grimsby was then taken up and discussed for about an hour.

Some of the members were strongly in favor of giving substantial prizes in the utility classes of the most popular breeds, in order to bring the Grimsby show at once to the front. The argument was that there were many poultry shows held during the fall and winter and that unless Grimsby should be able to present a prize list something out of the ordinary, they could not make their show more than a local one.

It was suggested that a committee be appointed to draw up a list of

If the military spirit is wrong, the naval spirit is wrong.

* * * * * *

If it is wrong to fight on land, it is just as wrong to fight on the sea, and I cannot understand how a man who is striving for perpetual peace, can get up and talk for perpetual war.

* * * * * *

It is about as inexplicable to me as the woman who is continually talking temperance and prohibition, and who allows her boys to play in front of the bar-room all day long, and most of the night.

* * * * * *

I have had ladies in Grimsby talk very earnestly to me about the closing of the bar-room, but I notice their children playing around the bar-room door, right up to nine o'clock at night some nights, and the mothers did not seem one little bit concerned. Consequently I have come to the conclusion that they were simply bluffing or shooting hot air when they were talking about the abolishing of the bar-room to me.

* * * * * *

Another lady stated to me that she was in great dread of her son becoming a victim of the bar-room, and yet I notice that she allowed her son to go to a big city to live where there were hundreds of open bar-rooms, where he could not go two blocks without passing one every time he goes along the street, and the lady seems to be taking her meals regularly and has not looked the least bit worried since he went away.

* * * * * *

I now doubt whether she was in earnest when she spoke to me about her fear of her son falling a victim to the bar-room. I think she was just using a little political effect.

* * * * * *

I regret that so many people lack earnestness and honesty, not only in their religion and politics, but in almost every walk of life.

* * * * * *

If they wish to gain a point, they are very earnest in talking along a certain line on some subject, and six months afterwards, they are doing practically opposite, on the same subject.

* * * * * *

It is a bad thing for a country when its politicians or its citizens are two-faced. When they get to the point when they start to be hypocrits, then they have lost their true value as citizens or statesmen.

* * * * * *

A striking point in this connection is the action of the suffragettes in England at the present time. They are advocating that women be allowed to vote, in order that they may be instrumental in bringing about a better order of things, and in order to enforce their ideas or opinions on the general public, they have started out to destroy houses with dynamite and fire, to murder people, to poison horses and cattle, wreck railway trains and in other ways bring about a state of anarchy.

* * * * * *

Many men think that women should be allowed to vote, but women who blow up houses with dynamite, wreck trains and poison horses are more suited for the lunatic asylum than they are for the voting booth. Women who will murder little children and sleeping women and men, by burning houses, should be on the gallows instead of on the lecture platform.

* * * * * *

A woman who places dynamite in a man's house is a murderer, whether the dynamite kills anyone or not.

* * * * * *

If it is right that women should have votes, they will get them in due time, and the more sanely and wisely they act, the sooner they will get them.

* * * * * *

I would hardly care, had I the power, to grant a great deal of power to women who would burn my barn down, poison my horses, or murder one of my children sleeping in bed at night.

* * * * * *

I must come to the conclusion, therefore, that the great trouble with these women is hypocrisy. They pretend to mean well and then go out and do wrong.

* * * * * *

They are just exactly like the member of parliament who was in favor of peace and voted for war.

* * * * * *

There was a rumor on the street on Saturday morning that Jim Marlatt and Silas Wardell had plugged the drain leading from the post office, but I don't believe it. It was probably a big fish or a mud turtle that got into the drain and stopped the flow of water.

* * * * * *

John Duvall has sweat some bloody sweat since he was laid off the post office job—Tory money looked so good to John that he hated to lose it, although he has been a life-long Grit—the post office job just suited John to a knock-down. It gave him such a fine chance to gossip.

* * * * * *

Superintendant Blaney has had his own troubles, what with the water and the mud and the medical health officer, and the hired help and the lack of help, he did not have any sorrows to seek. He had them with him, but still he wore a smile that never came off.

* * * * * *

Ken Grout is the only man on the job who has nothing to do but smoke, look wise and draw his salary. I think that the Government should supply Ken with tobacco money, over and above his salary, for at the clip that Ken is smoking, his tobacco money will make a big hole in his salary.

* * * * * *

When the Beamsville people heard that Jim Marlatt was sore over the post office site, they sent a deputation up to try and get Jim to move back to Beamsville.

* * * * * *

The deputation consisted of Chas. Jeffries, Sandy Bennett and Sylvester Konkle.

* * * * * *

Jim said that he did not like Grimsby any more, but before he would go back to live in Beamsville again they would have to pay him a heavy bonus.

* * * * * *

The deputation returned disappointed, but promised to lay the matter before the citizens of Beamsville and find out just how much bonus they would be willing to give, to get Jim back to that town.—The matter will be decided next week.

* * * * * *

A Liberal member of Parliament rose in the House of Commons the other night to discuss the Naval Bill and declared that he was in favor of doing away with all armaments and all war—a good idea, but the Liberal member voted to build a Canadian navy to continue war—another case of hypocrisy.

* * * * * *

It is a strange thing that this man cannot see that if there is any chance of world-wide peace or international peace, the silliest thing in the world to do, in Canada is to start to establish a Canadian navy—the establishment of a Canadian navy would mean a generation's work. How silly, then, to commence something that might be rendered useless after ten, twenty or fifty years.

* * * * * *

The British navy is now in existence. It is essential to the peace of the world that British navy be kept supreme. In order to keep the British navy supreme, Canada is contributing thirty-five million dollars.

* * * * * *

Should international peace be brought about, Canada does not have to contribute any more, either to the British navy, or towards the establishment of a Canadian navy, consequently, the wisest thing to do at present, is to do something quickly, that will keep the British navy supreme, and thus make it all the more easy to bring about perpetual peace, when the nations come to see how silly it is to be always preparing for war.

* * * * * *

I was greatly disappointed on Tuesday morning, when my usual morning's Globe did not make its appearance.

* * * * * *

I was very anxious to see The Globe to get a full report of the monster demonstration given to Mr. Borden in Toronto, on Monday night, and when The Globe failed to appear on the early morning car, my heart went down into my boots.

* * * * * *

The Mail and Empire came to hand all right, but I did not care anything for it. What I wanted to see was The Globe and when it did not come to hand, I was affected with nervous prostration for the next couple of hours.

* * * *

At first I feared that it had ceased publication, but as it came to hand later in the day, my fears in this direction were appeased and I was once more able to breathe freely—but a shock or two of this kind will be too much for my nervous system, and I hope it is never repeated, or it will be all day with me.

There are still some people who imagine they can tell the sex of chicks before they are hatched, or as soon as they are laid. Some tell us that long eggs always hatch females while others say that such eggs invariably hatch males. When it is considered, that each hen shapes her eggs according to the condition of her ovaries, and uniformly lays eggs of similar shape, the absurdity of the shape theory becomes apparent.

Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N.Y., used the powdered extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Bloodroot and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription as put up in liquid form was called and has enjoyed a large sale for these years in every drug store in the land. You can now obtain the powdered extract in sugar-coated tablet form of your medicine dealer, or send 50c in one-cent postage stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y., and tablets will be mailed, postage prepaid.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, red blood, invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels and through them the whole system. Skin affections, blotches, boils, pimples and eruptions—result of bad blood—are eradicated by this alterative extract—as thousands have testified.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

SHUT YOUR EYES AND FERTILIZE

The gospel declaration, "he who sows sparingly shall reap sparingly," applies with great truth to seed-sowing and fertilizing in the garden.

An old lady once put all the sugar her judgment would allow into her pieplant pies, then closed her eyes and put in another handful—a good rule in fertilizing a garden.

THE CANADIAN STEEL SPECIALTY COMPANY OF GRIMSBY

count of the nature of the goods, freight rates cut a very large figure in the business.

The cement building now owned by J. W. VanDyke, on Victoria Avenue, is specially adapted for the manufacture of a line of goods such as are made by the Canadian Steel Specialty Company. On account of the bulky nature of their products, pressed steel chairs, tables, etc., they take up a great deal of room, and the VanDyke building, with its immense size, both down stairs and up-stairs, is just the kind of building that the Company requires to carry on its business.

The Company is in good financial circumstances, free from debt, with an ever increasing business, and orders ahead for goods all the time.

They will employ twenty-five hands to commence with and with larger premises expect to increase the number of hands almost immediately, and may double the number within two years.

The Company desires to borrow from the village ten thousand dollars, which they agree to pay back at the rate of one thousand dollars per year, for ten years, without interest.

The village council proposes to raise the money by means of debentures running for fifteen years. The total payment for principle and interest amounting to $1,029, each year.

This means that during each year for the first ten years that the thousand dollars returned to the Village by the Company, pays the amount due on the debentures, all but twenty-nine dollars, so that all that the citizens of Grimsby will be called upon to pay in the way of taxes, on the proposed loan will be twenty-nine dollars per year for the first ten years.

For the next five years, the ratepayers of Grimsby will be called upon to pay, in their taxes, the sum of $1,029 per year, or in other words, the total cost to the Village of Grimsby in the way of taxes for securing this Company, will be $5,435, which amount is not to be paid until a period commencing ten years from now.

In the meantime, Grimsby has had the benefit of the taxes paid by the Company during the first ten years, and has also had the benefit of the increased population with its additional trade for the Village and its additional tax-paying ability, which far over balances the assistance rendered by the Village to the Company.

Another object in securing a company of this kind, is the hope and prospect that it may develop into a large and successful affair, eventually employing many hands and being a big benefit to the town.

Anyone who keeps posted on our present manufacturing industries will know that although they are not pretentious, yet they are of immense benefit to the village; in fact, without a doubt, they are the back-bone of the village. We refer to our canning factories, our basket factories, our stove foundry, the Radiant Electric Company, the Planing mills and our carriage shops—the combined wages of all these manufacturing industries cuts an immense figure in the finances of Grimsby every week. The growth of our canning companies has been wonderful. The growth of the Specialty Company has been phenomenal, as they have been forced to build increased accommodation every few months. The expansion of the business of the Radiant Electric Company has been most surprising. The business in 1913 having increased one hundred per cent over the same months in 1912.

These things should encourage the business men and the citizens to try and induce many manufacturing companies to come to Grimsby, and we hope that the citizens will take a fair-minded view of this matter next Monday and turn out and support the by-law and help to keep Grimsby growing and prospering.

POULTRY MEETING

prizes on a liberal scale and determine how much money would be necessary to pay for such prizes and report at the next meeting. There if it were found that the proceeds from the poultry show would not be likely to carry such a prize list, that the association ask for contributions from local poultrymen to a sufficient amount to guarantee the prize list. In this way money for the prize list would be practically guaranteed before the prize list was printed or the show advertised.

This idea was received with favor and a committee consisting of Messrs A. R. Fisher R. H. Kemp G. B. MacConachie and Henry Stromp, was appointed to prepare a list and report at the next meeting.

A discussion then arose as to what extent prizes would be given on what are known as the ornamental breeds.

Some of the members were in favor of putting the bulk of the prize money on the utility breeds on the breeds in which there are generally large entries and curtailing the prize list on breeds in which there are generally but few entries.

There was considerable discussion also with regard to the offering of special prizes and it was thought advisable and much better, if possible, in soliciting for special prizes, to secure cash instead of goods, as this would have a tendancy to bring poultrymen from a distance.

The meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

"Utility" does not mean "mongrelism" any more than "thoroughbred" means "standard-bred."

A NOVEL CONTEST FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Tobey is going to buy three potatoes and pay ten dollars in gold for them. LARGE PEPPERS

Do you want some large peppers? It is easy to get them if you plant Chinese Giant or Magnum Dulce, and set good plants about June 1 or a little earlier in good, warm garden soil. These peppers are very large and very mild, and the plants are productive if they are highly fed and highly cultivated.

Do not set closer than eighteen inches apart each way, or better eighteen inches in the row, with rows thirty to thirty-six inches apart for ease of cultivation with a horse. Much earlier and of fair medium size is the newer Neapolitan pepper, which is also quite mild and now a favorite in our city markets.

In Paris markets the eggs are dated, and one pays according to the freshness, so that it is possible to be certain of newly-laid eggs; or, if it is necessary to be economical yesterdays eggs, or the day's before, are offered at a reduction.

ROYAL MENUS

Of late years the catering in all the royal establishments has been much more elaborate and costly than it used to be.

In the last ten or twelve years culinary science has made considerable progress, and it was inevitable that its greatest achievement should be seen at the table in all great royal establishments

This does not mean, however, that monarchs are becoming greater gourmands than they were. As a matter of fact, two of the greatest monarchs in Europe, King George and the czar, live very simply, but at the tables of the English and Russian courts are spread daily the most expensive products of modern culinary art.

M. Cedard, the chief chef at Buckingham Palace, has a world-wide reputation, and is admittedly one of the greatest living culinary artists He has a salary of $12,500 a year, while his assistant, Oscar Ferry, is paid $4,000 a year, and under them is a staff of ten highly trained male cooks.

Every night at Buckingham palace, or at any of the royal residences where King George may be, his majesty sits down to a dinner that costs at the lowest estimate $10 a plate—and often a good deal more.

Whitebait, roast ortalans, venison, asparagus and erie de Stcavat aerie frequent items in the English royal menus..

M. Cedard has twelve different methods of preparing whitebait. One is said to have taken him six months of experimental work before he arrived at the result he wished to achieve. It figures in the menu card as "Whitebait a la Reine Marie," and costs about 65 cents a forkful to produce.

Another costly dish is "Chapons de Houdans a la Edward VII." This dish is a method of preparing capons invented by the present chief chef's predecessor in office, M. Menager, who was pensioned on the accession of King George. It is famed among European royalties, by most of whom it has been tasted when visiting the English Court. It costs about $2.40 a mouthful.

King George, however, I think, cares very little for the complicated wonderful and delicious products of modern culinary art that appear on the royal table. His majesty, as is well known, suffers a great deal from dyspepsia, and is extremely careful about his diet, but even if this were not the case, the present king of England would live just as simply.

King George's dinner usually consists of a little clear soup, a piece of grilled sole, halibut or mullsee, a slice of roast game and an ice. Sometimes however, his majesty's dinner is far more restricted. On days when he feels an attack of dyspepsia approaching, his dinner often consists of a little soup, milk pudding and a roast apple and cream and an ice.

On one occasion, when he was prince of Wales, King George went to dine at the Savage Club, where a great banquet had been prepared in his honor. It happened that on that day he was suffering somewhat from a slight attack of indigestion, and a few hours before he went to the club his private secretary sent word to the secretary of the club, that the prince would wish to partake of only a very light meal that evening.

It consists of clear soup, a piece of grilled sole and some rice pudding.

SOILS THAT WILL GROW ASPARAGUS

Asparagus depends upon its extensive root system for its rapid growth and as these roots are succulent, tender and grow rapidly when young, a light, friable soil offering little resistance to their extension is necessary

Soil that is actually wet most of the time will not maintain healthy roots. The asparagus-root has not the equipment of large air-cells which belong to aquatic plants, insuring to their tissues a supply of air, hence asparagus-roots will decay under such conditions.

Whether the soil be red, black or yellow, the essential thing is a certain proportion of sand, insuring ready drainage. Some very fine asparagus is grown upon red soil and also upon soil that appears almost black after a rain. Those soils whose blackness, yellowness or redness is due to clay should not be used. The soil cannot be judged entirely by its color or by its mechanical composition, but by its action after a heavy rain. Clayey soils unfit for asparagus stay packed and sandy soils are loose. That is the difference.

In preparing for the asparagus-bed, the soil should be of mealy character below the level of the roots. Previous tillage and deep plowing should precede asparagus-planting.

On the other hand, soil that is Advice about Stomach Troubles and how to relieve them.

Don't neglect indigestion, for it may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent of ills have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be one of the most dependable remedies known for indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. Rich in Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine, the relief they afford is very prompt. Used persistently and regularly for a short time, they tend to relieve pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help insure healthy appetite, aid digestion, and promote nutrition. As evidence of our faith in them, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give entire satisfaction, we will return the money you paid us without question or formality. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00.

Dry weather is a severe test upon the crop in dry weather, hence it is necessary to have some moisture-holding material in the soil. Compost or the rotting foliage of some cover crop meets the need best, insuring protection against the injurious effect of dry weather later in summer.

WINTER RADISHES

Easy to grow, good to eat, good to sell at a fair profit—such are winter radishes. You can have them black or white, long or short, mild or more pungent—just as you like them. Sow seed of California or Russian Mammoth if you prefer mild flavor and white color. Sow seed of the Spanish black or white, long or short rooted, if you want a radish of stronger flavor. The white "Mammoth" winter sorts often reach very large size.

I have never had much success in growing good edible roots of the new Japanese winter radish with the strange name (Sakarajima?). If seed of this is sown early, it seems to make a long spindling root and to go to seed speedily. Perhaps it will do better if seed is sown late in July or in August.

But we cannot grow winter radishes as thickly in the row as summer radishes. Early and severe thinning is essential for success. Two to five inches distance between the plants in the row is none too much. Don't neglect careful and thorough weeding. Radishes respond well to good care and you will be well paid.

STORING CARROTS AND PUMPKINS

Carrots and pumpkins cannot be put in the same class for storage. Pumpkins require a higher temperature and a drier atmosphere to keep well. The best way to keep pumpkins in the fresh state is by putting them on shelves where the temperature is from fifty to sixty degrees F. But they can also be cut and dried, or cooked as for pies and canned.

Carrots should be stored in a regular root house, or in a smaller way in bins or boxes in an ordinary cool cellar.

"I ATTRIBUTE MY CURE SOLELY

And Entirely To Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

HULL, QUE., Dec. 24th, 1912

"For the past twelve years, I had painful attacks of Dyspepsia. I could not digest my food and everything caused the most agonizing pain in my stomach. I also had a fearful attack of Constipation and at times, I had no movement of the bowels for two weeks.

Three doctors attended me for two years and gave me all kinds of medicine but did me no good. My weight came to only 80 pounds and everyone thought I was going to die. Finally, I had the good fortune to try "Fruit-a-tives" and as soon as I began to take them, I felt better. I persisted in the treatment and to my great joy, I steadily improved.

Now I feel very well, weigh 115 pounds, and this is more than I ever weighed even before my illness.

I attribute my cure solely and entirely to "Fruit-a-tives" and can never praise them too much for saving my life. To all who suffer from Dyspepsia and Constipation, I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" as a miraculous remedy"

Letters to the Editor

ATHLETICS, DO THEY ACCOMPLISH THEIR PURPOSE?

Athletics are beneficial, helpful and instructive to the best purposes in life and one is imbued with new spirit and life, making one more active, capable and fitted for strenuous toil. Its methods and virtues have been proven and wonderful benefits mentally and physically are to be derived.

It affects physical regeneration rejuvenates, and the highest mental and spiritual condition is attained through a high degree of bodily efficiency, the brightest intellectual stars and strongest moral characters are leaders in athletics.

An inert, illogical mind which cannot be aroused to grasp facts or manifest a wholesome curiosity, and the unreliable vascillating personality are inseparably associated with the weak undeveloped body.

Health will never come if you continually harp upon your troubles and persist in having an audience for every pain and will destroy the health of those around you. You may be heroic when sick, but there is no need to be an invalid.

If you break the law of health or of nature, you suffer and rigid rules in any direction do more harm than good.

Four essentials to health are: Cleanliness, including cleanliness of mind, exercise, diet and sleep.

It is the general health and constitutional condition of the individual that is really the cause of disease and is prevented by an outdoor life and suitable exercise, conducive to improved nutrition and general methods of vitality and manly vigor.

A rightly directed course of athletics will bring about speedy restoration to mind and body, creates peace and contentment because of an improved mind and a great factor for the storing up of energy.

Some of the best specimens of manhood have, by persistent and consistent training and culture, developed themselves to such a high standard that not only have they made fame, and in some instances fortune, but are the envy and admiration of all.

The true study of athletics or physical culture is a science and the Y. M. C. A. set the initiative years ago and is the mainstay of the whole organization, the leaders foreseeing that to have a clear mind through a strong, clean body, associated with high ideals, better and cleaner living and nobler aspirations.

Walking is the least expensive, the most accessible and may be made the most beneficial of all forms of exercise.

While athletes must walk vigorously in order to obtain the best results, yet it is well to remember that for good health and recreation, pugilistic road work is unnecessary and cannot be compared with the exhiliarating walk of the general health seeker.

A great mistake of beginners is in copying athletes in training and after a short while, give it up; whereas, if prudently pursued, would result in great benefit to them; the trouble is, they start in too violently, overdo it, and consequently, get stale, thus depleting their vitality for the time being; find your limit and keep well inside of it.

Not only does exercise increase the circulation with increased inspiration of oxygen, which encourages the entire physical organism, but assists the blood stream in its purpose of disposing worn-out tissues and helps the skin in its cleansing functions.

Life is based upon the construction and destruction of cells, the replacing of dead matter with the building up of new tissue for maintaining activity in the body.

Death, sickness and premature old age follow the non-replacing of new cells and when this condition continues disease follows.

The Grimsby Athletic Club has for its object the making of better young men, far nobler citizens, better and cleaner living and stronger bodies.

A person who takes an interest in athletics has no desire to prowl around the streets every night wasting their time, a nuisance to themselves and everybody else, and if some of them would get an interest in the club or some other desirable purpose, it would not only be immensely better for themselves, but also for the community.

Clubs of any kind are not built up in a week, or a month, or even a year, and there is no reason why the athletic club of Grimsby, if conducted upon proper lines and with support, would result in improving the tone and condition of many in Grimsby.

Geo. Haynes, Grimsby.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Probably no institution is more widely known by name than The Associated Press, and, on the other hand, more vaguely understood by the public generally as to its organization and its functions. For whatever cause this may be, that it is a fact is daily apparent.

The Associated Press is an association of something over eight hundred and fifty newspapers, operating under a charter of the State of New York as a mutual and co-operative organization for the interchange and collection of news. Under the terms of its charter "the corporation is not to make a profit, not to make or declare dividends and is not to engage in the business of selling intelligence nor traffic in the same."

In other words, The Associated Press is simply a common agent for the newspapers forming its membership by which they arrange an interchange of the news that each collects, and is bound by its membership obligation to contribute for the common use of its fellow-members and also as the agency through which foreign and certain classes of domestic news are collected and distributed to the members of the organization.

The Associated Press is in no wise the master of the newspapers constituting its membership, it is distinctly their servant.

In asserting that The Associated Press, as today constituted, is the servant and agent only of the newspapers for which it acts, I have no thought of minimizing the tremendous importance of the work it does as such an agent, but wish simply to emphasize the thought that properly speaking it has no entity of its own, no mission save to serve its members.

Its members, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Canada to the Gulf, representing every possible shade of political belief, religious faith and economic sympathy, it is obvious that The Associated Press can have no partisan nor factional bias, no religious affiliation, no aesthetic nor pro-labor trend.

Its function is simply to furnish its members with a truthful, clean, comprehensive, non-partisan—and this in its broadest sense—report of the news of the world as expeditiously as is compatible with accuracy and as economically as possible.

To do this, the newspapers composing its membership contribute first, the news of their localities and second, weekly assessments of money aggregating about $3,000,000 per annum, with which an extensive system of leased wires is maintained (22,000 miles of wire in the daytime and 28,000 miles of wire at night), bureaus in the principal American cities supplementing and collating the news of local newspapers and bureaus for the original collection of news throughout the world are maintained.

The volume of the news report to members varies greatly, ranging from five hundred words daily by telegraph or telephone to papers able to utilize only a very small amount of general news matter, to more than fifty thousand words daily or thirty-newspaper columns in the more important cities.

The method of collecting of foreign news has been greatly changed in recent years. Formerly The Associated Press collected its foreign service in London, receiving the news there from the Reuter Company, of the Wolff Agency of Germany and of the Havas Agency of France, with smaller affiliated agencies in Italy and Spain.

The objection to this method was that the news as received in London, was alleged to be impressed with an English bias—in any event, it was concededly not collected from an American viewpoint.

To meet this criticism, The Associated Press has established regular bureaus of its own in all the great news centres, and now maintains offices and staffs in London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, St. Petersburg, Vienna, Tokio, Peking, Mexico City and Havana, in addition to hundreds of individual correspondents scattered through the world.

It is probable that in the foreign news field the extraordinary genius of Melville E. Stone, the General Manager of The Associated Press, has been most strikingly exhibited. Just prior to the Russo-Japanese War, Mr. Stone secured from the Czar of Russia the abolition of the censorship and newspaper men still remember the remarkable frankness with which the Russian Government gave out news of Russia's reverses in that conflict.

Orders expediting the messages of The Associated Press were issued at his instance by the German, French Italian and Russian Governments and as a result it has come to be common for European capitals to get the first news of continental events through Associated Press reports cabled back from New York.

One beneficial result coming from this more direct relationship is to be found in the minimizing of the ill effect of the occasional outbreak of some utterly inconsequential German, French, English or Japanese "yellow" sporadically abusing the United States and its people.

It is not, naturally, to be claimed that no mistakes are made. They are made and will be made, but in the very nature of the business, with the heart so worn upon the sleeve, detection very swiftly follows, and the mistakes are few and far between.

The desire to enlist The Associated Press in propaganda or advocacy is usually to be found at the bottom of criticisms of its service. Added to this often is misinformation as to the real facts and sometimes, though happily rarely, actual malice.

The Associated Press leases wires, many thousands of miles of them, from the Western Union, the Postal, the American Telegraph & Telephone Company, and from several of the independent telephone companies.

The first three have a common basic rate, charging us $24 a mile a year in the daytime and $12 a mile a year at night. For exactly the same wire they charge an individual newspaper $20 and $10, respectively and a stockbroker gets a still further reduction.

Far from receiving discriminatory favors, The Associated Press feels that it is being distinctly and heavily discriminated against.

In these days when all transactions on a large scale are being subjected to so rigid a scrutiny it is natural that so conspicuous a mark of public attention as is The Associated Press should not find itself immune from critical inspection.

From time to time some voice is raised denouncing The Associated Press in the same breath as a monopoly and because it is not a monopoly, and insisting that it become a monopoly by admitting to its membership all desiring its service; the theory being that in some way the activities of The Association impress it with a public use and subject it to the obligation of a common carrier to serve all comers.

From an ethical standpoint only then is there anything improper, unsafe, or unwise in a group of newspapers, large or small, associating themselves together to do a thing that each must otherwise do separately and of reserving to themselves the right to determine to what extent the membership of such a group shall be enlarged?

At present, about one-third of the daily newspapers of the country are represented by membership in The Associated Press.

No more dangerous situation can well be imagined than the passing of the control of the greatest news-gathering and news-disseminating agency of the world from the hands of co-operating newspapers to the control of some individual interested in manipulating the news—the master and not the servant of the newspapers.

Because this danger would be so grave, it will not come, but for another reason also, a very basic reason.

There can be no monopoly in news. The day that it becomes apparent that a monopoly in collecting and distributing news exists, that day, in some way, by some method individual newspapers or groups of newspapers will take up the work of establishing a service for themselves, independent of outside control.

The news of the world is open to him who will go for it. Any one willing to expend the energy, the time and the money to approach it may dip from the well of truth.

The news service of The Associated Press does not consist of its leased wires or its offices, its soul is in the personal service of human men, of men with eyes to see, with ears to hear, with hands to write and with brains to understand. Of men who are proud when they succeed, humiliated when they fail and resentful when maligned. The telegraph wires are but the blind instruments of this service, though the wire has brought the uttermost parts of the world marvellously close. These human entities are ranging the world to send word of its doings, of its rejoicings, and its sorrowings to satisfy the thrist of the people for intelligence of the march of events.

The news service of The Associated Press of the horror of Martinique was not the event itself. It was the personal service of a man who at the first hint of the disaster that had wiped out a population took his orders, chartered a boat and went to Martinique where no correspondent still lived, and sent a story, his story of the great tragedy, wrecking his health by the effort required.

To get this report, this "news," was open to any one.

To get it cost the members of The Associated Press more than $10,000, in addition to the human wastage and prodigious effort.

It was part of the day's work.

And as today devoted men labor and die in order that the members of The Associated Press, an organization that neither owns nor prints a newspaper, may lay before their readers a fair picture of the world's happenings, so always will these and other men serve nobly and die bravely that the world may have tidings of sport and festival, of birth and death, of Congress and Parliament, of Hague conference and programme, of battle and plague, of shipwreck and rescue.

THE WHITING COMPANY'S NURSERY STOCK

which ordinarily were sold at thirty five cents, he at once warned the fruit growers to look out for Mr. Whiting, and to refrain from giving him an order at any greater price than they would have to pay to local nurserymen. This warning was heeded, and Mr. Whiting in a few days was unable to get any orders. He then passed away from this district, but not before calling on the editor of the Fruit Grower and Farmer and urging him to drop the campaign of publicity which had been taken up in the paper.

The editor replied that the Fruit Grower and Farmer and The Grimsby Independent were published in the interests of the fruit growers of the Niagara district and were liberally supported by the fruit growers and farmers, and therefore the editor felt it his duty to protect these men in every way possible, and that he intended, and so he informed Mr. Whiting, to give the matter still more publicity in the next issues of the two papers.

Mr. Whiting then left the vicinity. The next we heard of him was at Arkona, Ont., but his stay there was short, because the Fruit Grower and Farmer reached that part of the country ahead of him, and the farmers being forewarned, refused to do business with him and he crossed over to the United States.

The articles in the two papers created considerable interest in the Niagara Peninsula, and a great many fruit growers who had given orders to Mr. Whiting, immediately cancelled them and notified him that they would refuse to accept the nursery stock of pay for it.

During the past winter there was a general, pretty well understood arrangement amongst those who had given orders, that they would not accept the nursery stock, and that they would unite in any claim that the Whiting Nursery Stock Company might bring against them.

In spite of the fact that the Whiting Nursey Company had been notified to cancel the orders, Mr. Whiting appeared in the Niagara district in due course of time, and proceeded to deliver the nursery stock ordered last year. He has been busy doing this work for the past two or three weeks, and is still at it.

Information has reached the Fruit Grower and Farmer that in almost every case the fruit grower have refused to accept the nursery stock, and have not touched it, nor planted it, and those who have seen Mr. Whiting, have notified him personally that they will not accept the nursery stock and will not pay for it.

Meetings have been held and the fruit growers have decided to join together and fight Mr. Whiting to a finish, and the matter will probably be ventilated in the Courts in the near future.

A man has been sent to the United States to secure evidence as to where Mr. Whiting, it is alleged, had trouble with the fruit growers in a similar operation in New York State, and it is stated that the attorney who was employed on that case will be asked to advise and consult with the lawyers who have charge of the cases in this country.

It appears that the Rural New Yorker has been giving considerable publicity to the Whiting Nursery Company, off and on during the past five or six years, and if this is correct, evidence along these lines may be introduced to show that Mr. Whiting is only following the line of operation in Canada which he formerly followed in the United States.

It is not out of place to point a moral in connection with the Whiting Nursery Stock case.—Ontario, generally, and the Niagara district in particular, is amply supplied with Nursery Stock Companies, all of which are reliable and dependable and it is quite unnecessary to give orders to outside agents who come from the United States to sell goods that cannot possibly be any better than the varieties grown in this country.

If a fruit grower was approached by an agent from the United States, who represents that he has a wonderful variety or nursery stock to sell, it would be wise if the fruit grower would consult one of his local nurserymen, and if the nursery stock offered to him is good and worthy of being planted the nurserymen will know it, and if it is not a worthy variety; the nurserymen will know it also.

It is a simple matter for all fruit growers to keep posted on the price of nursery stock, and any one who is not posted, should not give an order without satisfying himself that the price asked is right and proper.

MINISTER PRAISES ZAM-BUK

Tells How It Cured His Wife's Bad Sore, When Everything Else Had Failed

Rev. Henry J. Munton, of Blackfalds, Alta., writes: "My wife had a very sore foot, which it seemed impossible to get anything to heal. The sore would heal to a certain point and then fester again and so on. I procured a box of Zam-Buk and after persevering with this herbal balm for some time the sore was completely healed.

"We were so grateful for this cure, and Zam-Buk acted so differently to any other of the numerous remedies we had tried that I thought you ought to know of this case. I have since recommended Zam-Buk to several of my parishioners and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zam-Buk proved of unequalled value is told by Mr. N. L. Gerry of Brandon, Man. He says: "I had my left foot run over by a wagon loaded with wheat. The foot was very badly crushed, and my little toe and the next toe were laid open. I applied Zam-Buk and only had to miss work for two days. Zam-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to my work. In a very short time my toes were quite healed and the foot is now as sound as ever, thanks to Zam-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, piles, blood poison, burns, scalds, eruptions, eczema, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, too, 25c per tablet.
